EXPERIENTIAL TEACHING & LEARNING WORKSHOP

THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 2018 | 1:00-5:00 PM
ROOM 318, 170 ST GEORGE ST

In this workshop we will review research conducted by the University of Toronto Outdoors (UTO) initiative, which has been experimenting with place-responsive, immersive, and embodied teaching and learning. Faculty will present their work and we will discuss pedagogical benefits and challenges of experiential teaching and learning. Together we'll go through administrative, logistical, and financial practices and challenges involved in experiential teaching at the U of T.
